Welcome

SEAN BERMAN

Founder of The Stem Cell Conference

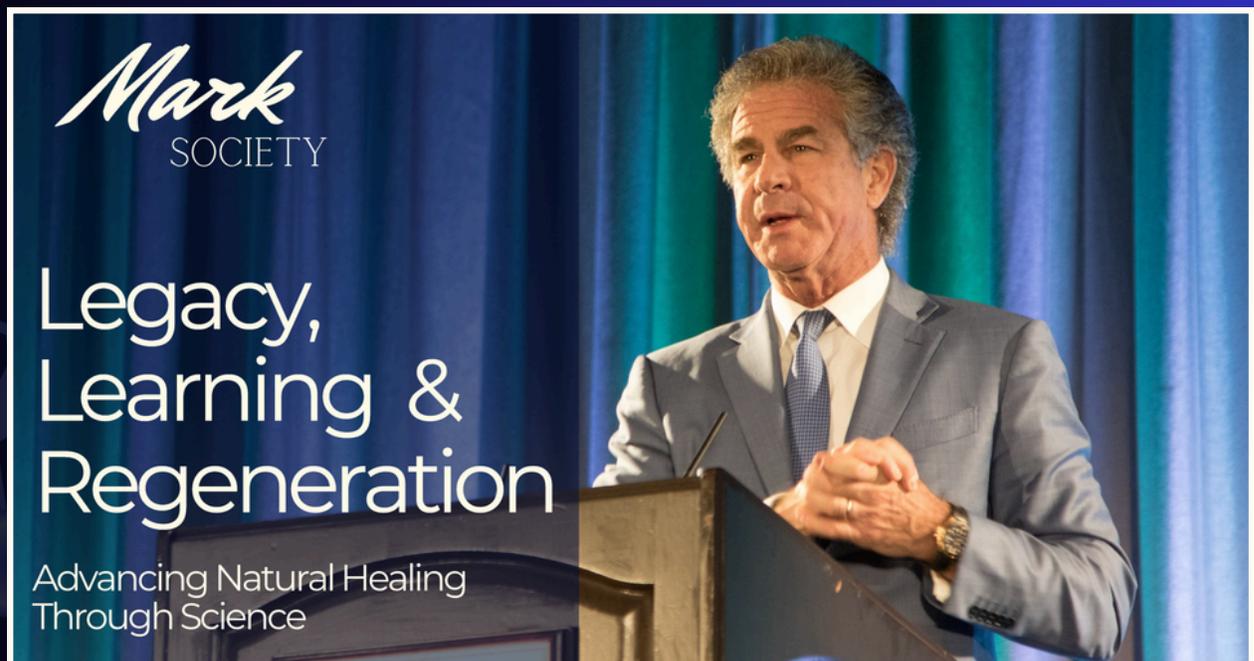

I'm excited to invite you to join us as a sponsor or exhibitor at The Stem Cell Conference 2026. This event marks the next evolution of a movement that began over a decade ago, founded by my father, Dr. Mark Berman, and now led by a community dedicated to real innovation in regenerative medicine.

TSCC 2026 brings together a highly targeted audience of forward-thinking physicians, clinicians, and researchers who are actively integrating regenerative tools into their practices. This is your chance to connect directly with the decision-makers shaping the future of orthopedics, aesthetics, neurology, longevity, and beyond.

With a single-track format, no competing sessions, and built-in time for networking and hands-on interaction, every exhibitor and sponsor gets maximum visibility and meaningful engagement. Our attendees come ready to discover the latest technologies, products, and services that can make an immediate impact on their work and their patients.

If your brand supports science-driven innovation, patient-first care, and practical solutions, you belong at The Stem Cell Conference.

Let's build the future of regenerative medicine together.
